

ANTI-BARD FORCES PLAN CAMDEN FIGHT Citizens of Tenth Ward Will Put Up Candidate to Oppose Nephew of Leader

SEEKING AVAILABLE MEN An organized effort to break the control of the David Baird ring on the political life of Camden this fall was forecast at a meeting of citizens in that city's Tenth ward at Sixth and Elm streets last night.

The result of the meeting, the appointment of a citizens' committee, headed by Joseph A. Connell, Jr., will report at a meeting on August 23 of the names of the most available independent citizens for the anti-Baird forces to put up against the present councilman from that ward.

The present councilman from Camden's Tenth ward is John J. Robinson, a nephew of Baird. The Tenth ward is actively working to break the control of the Baird family, and Robinson is actively opposed to Robinson and indicated they would support the candidate of the citizens' committee.

The Tenth ward citizens elected a councilman and freetholder, Baird, in opposition to the Baird gang and in opposition to the Baird family of which he is a member. Robinson is actively working to break the control of the Baird family, and Robinson is actively opposed to Robinson and indicated they would support the candidate of the citizens' committee.
